Value of the Term

Our value this term is compassion

Our new values flag (designed by Daisy in Year 5 last year) is now proudly flying at the front of the school

Welcome back to the new term – I do hope you all managed to have a good break. The children have returned to school with great enthusiasm and it is wonderful to see the children so happy and settled, despite everything else that is going on in the world around them. We have had staff who have had to self-isolate before the break and this week we have two teachers and a teaching assistant who need to self-isolate. When teachers need to self-isolate, we are doing all we can to ensure the same supply teacher covers the class for the duration. When self-isolating, teachers continue to plan all the work for the class and join them virtually at points throughout the week. Your continued kindness and understanding is greatly appreciated as our staff team continue to remain committed in providing high quality, consistent level of care and learning for their classes whilst managing their own personal emotions and family circumstances.

Details will be sent out next week inviting you to our virtual parent/carer consultations – please do check you emails with details about this from your child’s class email address explaining how the system will wok.

I know you will want to join me in welcoming Mrs Lucy May to our staff team. Mrs May will be working in our office on Fridays. She has a wealth of experience working in a school office and we are delighted to have such an experienced, friendly additional face working in the office.

Best wishes,

Amanda Flanagan

Message from Mrs Mann – Family link worker and attendance officer.

The attendance at the end of Term 1 is 97.1 % which is excellent!

We would like to remind families that term time holidays will not be authorised and we ask that families ensure their children arrive in school before the register is taken as if not, they will be marked as late. Many thanks for your ongoing support.

Just some of the great learning going on here at The Manor
